CPOC Supports Beth Culver for State Assembly, 67th District

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - Orange, California (January 31, 2024) — The Conservative Patriots of Orange County (CPOC) is pleased to support one of its earliest and most active members Elizabeth “Beth” Culver, who is running for California State Assembly to represent the 67th District.

“Beth Culver is a fiery, feisty American patriot with endless energy and drive,” said CPOC President Deborah Pauly, Esq. “She was one of CPOC’s earliest members and has contributed a great deal due to her positive enterprising nature. When Beth realized no one was stepping up to challenge the incumbent representative in her Assembly District, she took the initiative to step up to the plate herself.

“Now, more than ever, it is critical that voters are given a choice,” said Pauly. “We can’t keep sending the same people up to Sacramento who have destroyed and tarnished our state. It’s time for new blood and common sense. Beth Culver epitomizes the American spirit that built the Golden State.

“Sacramento would not know what hit them,” Pauly added, with a laugh.

The cities of Buena Park, Cypress, and La Palma, plus the western parts of Anaheim and Fullerton in Orange County and Cerritos, Hawaiian Gardens, and parts of Artesia in Los Angeles County comprise the 67th Assembly District.

CPOC, which has been growing its membership and influence at an astounding rate since its founding in late 2021, is a locally-focused, completely autonomous non-partisan organization comprised of activists and adherents to the U.S. Constitution.
